HOSTRY FESTIVAL

The Autumn Festival of Norfolk 2022

We're so pleased to be sharing our new look Festival Guide with you. In 2010 the Hostry building was opened by Her Majesty the Queen, and in her Platinum Jubilee year we are welcoming some of Norfolk's and the UK's best loved authors and artists with exclusive appearances & commissions throughout.

Our Festival Central Production Ring Round the Moon by Jean Anouilh & Christopher Fry is a rarely seen classic European romantic comedy drama, set in French high society of the roaring 1920s.

The Norfolk Arts Awards celebrates its 10th anniversary with Norwich School hosting the event at the Blake Studio, Cathedral Close.

To view our 10th anniversary feature length documentary & interviews from many of our supporters visit: www.hostryfestival.org

As part of this landmark year we have invited Public & Creative Voting in partnership with the EDP in 11 of the awards categories.

Rebecca Chapman announces her new Total Ensemble: Arts Initiative, launching new initiatives to explore new ways of creating; building fresh, positive relationships for a new age.

The African Choir of Norfolk bring us their 2nd gala festival concert, with new material, new costumes and new members set to lift all our spirits skyward.

Paint Out brings us a Nocturne Painting Festival running, Thursday evening to a Saturday Private View & Sunday exhibition in a marquee in the Cathedral Close.

We look forward to welcoming you at our Launch Night celebrating participants & partnerships from across the county as well as at one or many of our events on offer at the Autumn Festival of Norfolk.

Image: The Lord Mayor presents Peter Barrow with an award from the city in recognition of his philanthropic support of the festival 2010 – 2021.

We welcome our new festival patrons and ambassadors, who include Stephen Fry and Stephanie Beacham. We thank The Very Revd Jane Hedges, who has recently retired from being Dean of Norwich, for all her support and encouragement of the festival.

Our thanks go to our Principal Sponsors the University of East Anglia, to all the trusts, charities, and fellow philanthropists and to the Cathedral Chapter & Diocese. We also thank all creative partnerships in business & education, and in particular Norwich School for hosting no less than five of our festival events this year.

Our doors are wide open to volunteers and we welcome your interest at all times throughout the year. Be sure to follow us on facebook & twitter and post your comments & reviews on all that you see on your visits to the festival, from 21st October to 6th November.

HOSTRY FESTIVAL: The Autumn Festival of Norfolk

For many artists and arts organisations 2022 is proving to be an opportune year to launch new initiatives and explore new ways of creating; building on what we do well, embracing change and fostering fresh, positive relationships for a new age that relies on effective collaboration for our very survival.

The Hostry Festival has a positive effect, year-round, as partnerships develop and the communities within our Signature Projects blossom and grow. The PBSK Partnership is ever curious, constantly noticing, listening, learning, reaching out and as a result, TOTAL ENSEMBLE: Arts Initiative has arrived. A legacy of the first ten years of making original ensemble theatre, this is a new adventure that stands at the forefront of the vision for the next ten years and beyond.

Mission Statement:
To explore Norfolk, 'making art as we go'
To land where we are inspired, invited or needed
To create environments, temporary or longer term, unique in its aim of collaborative creation and expression through art form. To nurture community spirit, connection and love of life.

As you read, if you feel a kernel of creativity stirring or the spark of an idea, get in touch.

"It's a great pleasure to welcome the Hostry Festival back to Norwich Cathedral as it enters its second decade. When the Hostry opened, Stash was quick to spot its potential as a venue to celebrate the arts in Norfolk.

As the Dean and Chapter hoped to recover the historic function of the ancient Hostry as a focus for the Cathedral's ministry of hospitality, we knew that the arts would have an important role to play. And so it has proved over the last ten years.

We wish the festival every continued success."

& Booja Booja Truffles Receptions)
At The Blake Studio Norwich School
(situated by Norwich Cathedral's main entrance)

Due to popular demand after Braimah Kanneh-Mason and his mother Kadiatu appeared at our 2021 festival, we have commissioned this exclusive classical concert featuring not only Braimah but also his two sisters Konya & Jeneba. The gala concert will be opened by their mother, in conversation with festival patron Christine Webber. Copies of their book House of Music will be available and there will be a 20 minute Q&A. Join us to meet the family at our post-concert reception.

The event will be hosted by Norwich School & the festival's artistic director Stash Kirkbride. Your evening begins with a champagne reception at 7pm. Early booking recommended.

"The Kanneh-Mason's are a unique family and their mother's book HOUSE OF MUSIC: Raising the Kanneh-Masons is a fascinating account of how day-to-day life works in an extraordinary household."
Julian Lloyd Webber

NAJI MALAK WALKING WITH VETERANS

In conversation with
BBC Radio Norfolk's ANNA PERROTT

Thursday 27th October – At the Hostry building
1pm to 2.30pm. £8/£5 Concs

Naji's new book is all about good rapport between practitioners and veterans suffering from PTSD.

Veterans are proud people with a lot of dignity. They have been trained to fight to win but not to lose. When they get traumatised by an accident and they break down it is new to them. It is not in the army manual to guide them though the darkness that overwhelms them. So being asked to talk about this darkness to professionals goes against the grain. Most prefer not to engage.

Naji Malak has 35 years experience treating veterans with acupuncture and through his charity Stand Easy he believes the less talking the more effective treatments can be.

The process of creating his first book
Thursday 27th October At the Hostry building
3pm to 4.30pm. £8/£5 Concs

After a successful creative career spanning 45 years and including Sculpting, Illustrating and Storytelling, Paul is now deeply engaged in creating a series of books set in a fantasy world called Elsewhere. A world that he has been drawing and making maps of since he was 18.

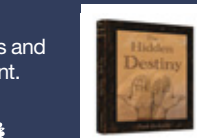

The Queen of the Elvish people whispers a most extraordinary secret to Findorian, her new-born son, but before she can explain her secret she is killed by the King of Curses.

The Hidden Destiny is a feast for the imagination, wherein an alliance of people, animals, and birds, led by Findorian, try to stop the unstoppable, and bring hope back into the world.

Paul will be showcasing his sculptures and illustrations at this Hostry Festival event.

RING ROUND THE MOON

By Jean Anouilh & Christopher Fry

MONDAY 24TH TO
SATURDAY 29TH
OCTOBER

"L'Invitation au Château" is a fairy tale romantic comedy, a beautifully observed and poetic piece of storytelling, combining the original writing of Jean Anouilh & the English adaptation by Christopher Fry."

Full of memorable characters, the play's themes include love, wealth, intrigue, poverty, vanity, manipulation & mischief – and even perhaps a happy ever after.

Be transported to French high society in the roaring 1920's, where everything that appears to us may not be all it seems.

Paint Out Norwich 2022

This autumn, we are revisiting Norwich and its contrasting medieval streets and modern shops with a specific emphasis on a Nocturne painting festival running Thursday evening through to a Saturday Private View and Sunday exhibition in Cathedral Close, Tombland.

Nocturnes were originally associated with musical compositions evocating the night but the word mutated to the visual arts under Rembrandt's influence in 17th-century Holland. It has since become common parlance in the Fine Arts, albeit with Whistlerian connotations.

Paint Out has showcased Nocturne painting since we began in 2014. This year's October event will be primarily focused on the plein air skill of painting as the sun disappears and evening lights appear, perhaps reflecting on damp cobbles, the neon glows of shops and yellowed street lamps.

We are proud to have hosted hundreds of artists, over the last nine years, who have taken up the challenge of painting by night, even at the end of a long day's art creation. This time, our days will begin at sundown and the evenings will mark the beginning of painting as late night shoppers, drinkers and diners continue to fill the city.

Artists may use LED lights clamped above their boards or seek out the sulphurous glow of the Georgian and Victorian street lamps in the medieval quarter of the city or the night-lit storefronts and hospitality venues around the city's centre and illuminated lanes.

For the collector and gallery visitor this is a chance to view a selling exhibition of freshly painted works, hot off the easel that bask in the beauty of the city at night from dozens of familiar and unseen vantage points.

Come scrutinize the choice of composition and often innovative use of reduced palette colour or perhaps witness how some artists elicit an almost Hogarthian realism in rendering the nightlife of Norwich's early twilight hours.

Paint Out will host the Nocturne Paint Out in a marquee on the green outside the Cathedral Hostry.

At The Crypt Gallery,
Norwich School
Monday 24th to
Sunday 30th October 2022
11am to 8pm
Monday to Sunday
Entrance Free.
(No wheelchair access)

Artist John Behm has been painting his way through recovery. A near-fatal car crash in 2004 left him with brain damage, unable to resume his painting career for 10 years. After some further stubborn years of re-learning, he's now painting again, every day.

In thrall to light and colour and how they reveal our world, he delights in expressing that in paint.

Landscapes in Norfolk and Scotland, portraits of friends and family, sketches en plein air – all show John's exuberant love of the work.

As he says, "to do the work is the thing; to make a record of being alive, and seeing, down to the fleeting curve of the moment. Every day brings its wonders."

HAYLEY MILLS FOREVER YOUNG A Memoir

In conversation with Artistic Director STASH KIRKBRIDE
Sunday 30th October at the Hostry
1pm to 2.30pm Inc Q&A & Book Signing
Festival Patron and Oscar winning actress Hayley Mills returns with a profile of her new autobiography.

Forever Young is a new memoir of a British child star of the 1960s (a daughter of Sir John Mills & Mary Hayley Bell) who won an Oscar for Pollyanna and went on to make other Walt Disney hits like The Parent Trap and In Search of the Castaways, Summer Magic, as well as the acclaimed film Whistle Down the Wind. She has also starred in Flame Trees of Thika & Wild At Heart.

Now, for the first time, Hayley tells of her Hollywood years in her own words. An immensely nostalgic evocation of a bygone era Forever Young serves as a frank telling of the reality behind the set dressing – and of Hayley's survival. Early booking recommended.

LOUISE PERRY The Case Against the Sexual Revolution

Exclusive book profile
Interviewed by KATY JOHN WENT

Friday 28th October 1pm to 2.30pm
Inc 20 Min Q&A & Book Signing
At The Hostry Building. Age 18 +
(ID may be requested)

It would be neither possible nor desirable to turn the clock back to a world of pre-60s sexual mores, and in her new book The Case Against The Sexual Revolution, Louise Perry argues that the amoral libertinism and callous disenchantment of liberal feminism and our contemporary hypersexualised culture represent more loss than gain. While dispensing sage advice to the generations paying the price for these excesses, she makes a passionate case for a new sexual culture built around dignity, virtue and restraint.

Join Katy John Went as she interviews Louise Perry, a New Statesman columnist and one the country's leading countercultural young voices in contemporary feminism.

Friday 28th October
At The Hostry building
3pm to 4.30pm

In conversation with Festival Ambassador CHRIS JACOB
Newly published exclusive book profile event

500 AD. When the local overlord discovers that Isla has learned how to make the legendary firetongued swords from her father, the Great Smith, there is nowhere for her and her sister to hide. Inside the walled ghost city of Londinium, Blue and Isla find sanctuary in an underworld community of squatters, emigrants, travellers and looters, led by the mysterious Crowther. But trouble pursues them even here.

Rebecca Stott is a historian, R4 broadcaster, novelist and the author of the Costa-award winning memoir In the Days of Rain. Her novels include Ghostwalk and The Coral Thief. She is a Professor Emeritus at UEA and lives in Norwich.

'An ancient tapestry of legend brilliantly rewoven.' Francis Spufford, author of Light Perpetual

'Magical and evocative', Imogen Hermes Gower, author of The Mermaid and Mrs Hancock an eloquent and heartachingly poignant story of sisterhood that echoes across the centuries', Lucy Holland, author of Sistersong

ANNE GLENCONNER My Extraordinary Life in the Shadow of the Crown: A Special Platinum Jubilee Celebration

In conversation with festival patron CHRISTINE WEBBER

Sunday 30th October
3pm to 4.30pm at The Hostry
Inc: 20 Min Q&A & book signing

Lady Glenconner is the author of the acclaimed best-selling memoir Lady in Waiting, as well as two murder mystery novels, Murder on Mustique and A Haunting at Holkham.

She was born Lady Anne Coke in 1932, the eldest daughter of the 5th Earl of Leicester, growing up in their ancestral estate at Holkham Hall in Norfolk. A Maid of Honour at the Queen's Coronation, she married Lord Glenconner in 1956. In 1958 she and her husband began to transform the island of Mustique into a paradise for the rich and famous. They granted a plot of land to Princess Margaret who built her favourite home there. She was appointed Lady in Waiting to Princess Margaret in 1971 and kept this role – accompanying her on many state occasions and foreign tours – until her death in 2002. Turning 90 this Platinum Jubilee year, Anne Glenconner – now an international best-selling author – shares what she has learned from her extraordinary and unexpected life.

VOLUNTEERING AT THE FESTIVAL

"You can volunteer in quite literally all parts of the festival. Find out more by attending our Festival Launch Night (see above left). This event is where we all meet for the first time each year, just 6 weeks before the action begins. I look forward to seeing you there or hearing from you at any point throughout the year." SCOTT MEACOCK
Volunteers Coordinator & Front of House Manager

"I began my volunteer journey by agreeing to hand out posters in 2017. Within a few weeks I was assisting on the production team, and since 2020 I have held the position of Stage Manager. You can offer your time for just an evening, a week, or even all year round. It's a truly wonderful project to work on." SUZANNA REDFORD
Central Production Stage Manager
